

PROFILE

I'm a freshly baked software/frontend developer currently with an ongoing education in programming in Lexicon, looking for a job or internship in software/frontend development. I'm a stubborn problem solver who always finds solutions to problems one way or the other. Usually by going with the Occam's razor principle. The APL (Arbetsplatsförlagd Lärande) internship is part of the education program at Lexicon which is to be 20 – 80 days long that also will hopefully eventually lead to a job position.
